

Majoring in

Forest Resources & Conservation

Specialization: Business Management

Business Management gives students a sound background in natural resource management and a broad introduction to business as appropriate for students interested in consulting, real estate or working for forest industry. The program emphasizes sustainable, multiple-use management and includes substantial field work and group projects.

Summer B	FOR3200C	Foundations in Natural Resources and Conservation	3 credits
	FOR3434C	Forest Resources Information Systems	3 credits
Fall	FNR3410C	Natural Resource Sampling	3 credits
	AEB3133	Principles of Agribusiness Management	3 credits
	FNR3131C	Dendrology/Forest Plants	3 credits
	FOR3153C	Forest Ecology	3 credits
Spring	FOR3162C	Silviculture	4 credits
	FOR3202	Society and Natural Resources	3 credits
	FOR3430C	Forest Mensuration	3 credits
	AEB3122	Financial Planning for Agribusiness	3 credits
Summer	Practical Work Experience (internships, temporary work, etc.)
Fall	FOR4621	Forest Economics and Management	4 credits
	FOR4754C	Forest Operations and Wood Utilization	3 credits
	AEB3142	Rural Property Appraisal	3 credits
	FNR4660C	Natural Resource Policy and Administration	3 credits
	FOR4020	Seminar in Contemporary Issues in Forest Resources & Conservation	1 credit
Spring	FNR4343C	Forest Water Resources	3 credits
	FOR3214	Fire Ecology and Management	2 credits
	FOR3214L	Fire Ecology and Management Lab(Optional)	1 credit(Optional)
	ACG2021C	Introduction to Financial Accounting	4 credits
	FNR4623C	Integrated Natural Resource Management	3 credits
	AEB4123	Agricultural and Natural Resource Law	3 credits

University of Florida/IFAS

School of Forest Resources & Conservation

www.sfrc.ufl.edu ~ 352-846-0847 ~ khaselier@ufl.edu

January 2012